“ Cathy was the best friend a person could ask for. I've never known anyone so generous, unselfish, caring...a true genuine heart. I have such wonderful memories of Cathy coming to visit me and the fun we had. And the daily emails when we could only be together virtually. You will be missed so much my dear friend.

“ Knowing that God has called my niece home, is comforting, but the massive void, in all of our lives, for those of us that knew and loved her, this is a very big burden, for all of us to have to bear. For me, I've not only lost a part of our family, but a great friend and an email partner, we really rattled some cages, didn't we Cathy. Yes, right now our hearts are filled with heartache and grief, but the time will come, when we'll all look back when we remember you Cathy and smile. because you were that full of life and we'll remember you fondly. RIP Cathy, your suffering is finally over and you now belong to God and the ages.
