“Deb was a kind, caring, responsible, fun-loving person. She was not afraid of hard work or taking on a problem to solve. You could always count on her for whatever was needed. She would go the "extra mile" with all she did. She was an unselfish person, always thinking of others. She never asked for much when it came to herself. She judged no one. She loved and cared for all of God's creatures. She was a light in the night. She always had a smile and a positive attitude. She loved her husband, her family, and her life. But most of all Debbie was my friend, a true friend and I will never forget her. She will always hold that special place in my heart. She is with God and watching over all she loves. She is still with us to help with whatever she can, because that was what Debbie did. All you have to do is call her name, she'll be there. I'm so grateful that you were in my life.

“Deb and I went to school together; had a ton of fun. She always had a smile. I I am so sad this happened to her; she never deserved anything cruel. We're all thinking about you Deb; the world is a sadder place without your beautiful smile.

“ Some of my best teen age years were spent at my cousin's farm. Debbie and I were close in age and thought of each other like sisters. My sister was much older than me and Debbie had no sisters so it easy to connect. She was always fun and gladly let me and my girlfriends stay in her bedroom with her when we came to visit. Which was quite often. There was so many great memories it's hard to not want to share all of them. I learned to drive out in the cow pastures in the old green car / usually chasing the cows back to the barn to fast. Speaking of cows my friends and I thought it would be nice to let Deb sleep in one morning and go do her chores. The milking of cows did not go well as we had no idea which ones to milk. Soon found out that you don't milk a heifer. There were many good times sneaking out my of the house to go meet boys and finding Lois at the end of the lane waving her flashlight as we sped by. Riding the horses into Mclean to get Pepsi for Lois and getting side tracked. Skinny dipping at Plainview Country Club and also breaking into the city pool. Needless to say I am not sure why Leonard and Lois let us keep coming back to their home. As time went on we drifted apart but I thought of her often and still treasure all the good times we had growing up. She will be missed by all who knew her. - Laura Bergholz

“ *Deb was such a true spirit always caring for others. Her and I were inseparable growing up I spent every possible minute on the Gerdes farm. Deb and her family taught me what it was to work and learn about life on the farm. I always said every kid should live on a farm or visit one. Deb was always doing what she could whether it be rescuing a piglet from being crushed by the sow rescuing me from the bull that got loose teaching me how to milk cows while listening to Credence Clearwater she said they milk faster that way I love that band yet today. We loved to ride horses!, herd the cows. play pinnackle cards for hrs during the blizzards then drive the bounce mobile threw the drifts. we loved to show her calves at the fairs and enjoyed being in the parades with the outhouse aboard, she was a true big sister to her brothers Loren and Gaylen and even though Deb didn't have any kids she loved and adored her nieces and nephews. she loved and cared unconditionally! I'm glad you found your love Steve while you were here and someday we will meet again. rest easy now my sweet cousin. love you!!
