“To our friends of Leo Synovec”

My heartfelt sympathies to you and your family when I heard of Leo's passing. May God help you in this time of grieving but always remember that our loved ones are never to far away. They watch over us everyday. We may not see them but they are there. We hear them in a new baby's cry or birds singing on a new spring day. Memories are stirred in our minds all the time. Take care and God Bless.

“ This is a lovely obituary.

Grandma used to bring cousin Rose out to the farm to visit. Cousin Rose was one of my favorite people. She would bring us blonde brownies, which were new to me, and they were so very good. We would go for rides and I'd be in the back with her. When she started to get Alzheimer's she would sometimes think I was her sister and she'd talk to me like we were young. I sure wish I could remember some of the things she said!

It seems to be a habit of the grown that we try to hold on to our elders and try to keep them with us, mentally. As a child, that did not occur to me. As an adult, I have been guilty of this. The last time I saw Leo and Marjorie, I tried to make them understand who I was and how we were related. I think, looking back, that it was very selfish. I wanted them to know that I had not forgotten them, but I don't think that was something they needed. So I ended up talking to them about their children and grandchildren, which made them happy and, of course, made me happy as well.

I miss my family. I miss Leo and Marj. I hope that I can offer some comfort to the family knowing that so many of us carry so many wonderful memories of them.

God bless you all!

*Love,
Shala (Jelinek) Carter*
